

...IN THE SOCIAL REALM...

June is the month when the roses and the brides, the month when the young people are linked by association with the fragrance and perfume of early summer.

Quite a number of weddings are scheduled for the early days in June in which Richmond people are greatly interested. Chief among these is the marriage of Miss Evelyn Baylor to Mr. Pelham Blackford, which will take place at Staunton Hill, Charlottesville county, June 1st, to be followed by a honeymoon spent abroad and a return to Richmond in the early autumn.

Tuesday next, May 31st, Miss Anne Dunbar, the daughter of General and Mrs. George B. Davis, of the United States army, and Lieutenant Charles M. Wesson, of this city, will be married at 8 P. M. in St. Margaret's Church, Washington, D. C.

Another June bride will be Miss Bessie Carter, the daughter of Mr. Robert Carter of Boston, whose wedding to Mr. Colson Everett Hamilton, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will be an event of the month of roses.

Women's Charities.

Women during the late spring have been disposed to the things that make for charity or love. Miss Helen Gould's visit proved an inspiration in more ways than one, as the formation of the Woman's Auxiliary will prove.

In the meantime the Woman's Free Kindergarten, the Mothers' Clubs, the traveling library and the Nurses' Association are the things which, while the many outlets through which womanly activity and usefulness is making itself felt.

Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary.

A meeting of the Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association of the Passenger and Power Company at the Reservoir was held Thursday, June 25th, at 2:30 o'clock.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. F. J. Craigie, who was in the chair, and who took as her reading from the Scriptures Romans XII, which Miss Helen Gould read at the woman's meeting when she was in Richmond. Before the hymn, "He Leadeth Me," was sung, Mrs. Craigie spoke of the Rochester street car Young Men's Christian Association having been formed, but emphasized the fact of Richmond being the first city in the United States to have a Woman's Auxiliary.

The discussion and adoption of the constitution and the election of officers followed. The object of the Auxiliary, as set forth in the meeting, is to assist the work at the Reservoir, to make the building homelike and attractive, to arrange entertainments, socials and religious meetings, to interest the wives and families of employees, and visit and relieve, when possible, any sick among them. It is hoped that as many women in the city as are interested in the work may become active members. Others who simply wish to contribute, may become honorary members.

Officers may be elected from the wives, sisters, mothers and daughters of the employees and from women employees of the company.

The meetings of the Auxiliary are to be held the first Thursday in each month—except during July and August—at 2:30 P. M.

Officers elected were: Mrs. F. J. Craigie, president; by acclamation; Mrs. S. W. Huff, first vice-president; Mrs. William Pemberton, second vice-president; Mrs. J. L. S. Scadding, secretary; Mrs. H. Stuart Maclean, treasurer; Mrs. C. S. Buchanan was made chairman of the entertainment committee and Mrs. S. W. Brightwell, chairman of the house committee.

Miss Whitfield was nominated as secretary by Mrs. Tubbs, but was unable to accept the nomination. Miss Whitfield filled the position of secretary most ably during the formation of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. J. L. Dyer was made a member of the entertainment committee. Chairmen and members of the sick and relief committee will be appointed at the discretion of the president during the coming month.

Mrs. Craigie made a very charming address of thanks, one in which she spoke of her earnest desire to make the Auxiliary a success, and expressed her appreciation of the good attendance notwithstanding the heat. She closed by requesting a large meeting for Thursday next, June 24, at 2:30 P. M.

The thanks of the Auxiliary are due Mr. W. J. Tubbs for his great help in framing the constitution and by-laws and for his assisting the ladies in their undertaking in every possible way.

Triplet-Jackson.

The wide popularity of the contracting parties will invest their nuptials with much interest for friends and relatives in Richmond and elsewhere in Virginia. Miss Jackson is the sister of Mrs. Ramon D. Garlin, of this city, with whom she has frequently visited and with whom she has spent a part of several winter seasons. She is the daughter of Mr. J. Miss Elizabeth Kern, of Winchester, Va., has proven herself a most successful literary editor in the Woman's Fair, the year book of the Woman's College, Baltimore. Miss Kern contributes to the book several particularly good direct poems. The following interesting account of the annual banquet given by the juniors of the college—Miss Kern's class—to the seniors is taken from the Baltimore Morning Herald of yesterday, and says:

The reception room was decorated with flags, pennants and bunting. In the central pavilion of the hall covers were laid for 161. ## TWO ROADS EXEMPT.

Corporation Commission Grants Petitions of F. & P. and V. C.

The State Corporation Commission has issued an order exempting the Farmville and Powhatan Railroad Company and the Virginia-Carolina Railway from the operation of the demurrage, storage and car service rules which were prescribed by that body to take effect as of the 16th day of May. These two roads made application for such exemption and laid their cases before the commission. The Farmville and Powhatan is a narrow-gauge road, and is and has been for some time in the hands of a receiver, and has not the adequate equipment to comply with the provisions of these rules and regulations. The Virginia-Carolina Railway is a short toll-line of not more than ten miles, and owns no equivalent of its own.

The reasons as set forth by the two roads convinced that these rules would work a hardship on these companies and they were for that reason exempted from the operation of them. The two roads, however, will not be allowed to charge any storage, demurrage or car service from its patrons or others.

Veterans Entertained.

The veterans at the Soldiers' Home were entertained a few nights ago by a pretty drama, presented in Pegram's Hall by an amateur cast of considerable experience. "Above the Clouds" is the title of the pretty play that the soldiers so much enjoyed, and it was repeated next night for the benefit of Constant V. The director was Mr. William J. Hersey, of Boston (a Harvard graduate), and four of the gentlemen of the cast are ministerial students at Richmond College. The play was admirably presented.

Following is the cast: Grace Ingalls (a young artist), Miss Julia C. Bickers; Howard Gaylord (Gaylord's son), Mr. W. P. Clark; Susie Gaylord (Gaylord's daughter), Miss Viola Williams; Philip Blair (Crazy Phil), a mountain hermit, Mr. P.
